

David Hill

17 Club Assistant Coach

Personal History

I was born in Syracuse, NY, and moved to Texas in 1979 to attend Baylor University for my MBA. I grew up and went to school in Syracuse and attended college at The King's College in NY where I majored in Business. After graduation in 1978, I played Volleyball on a mission team to Mexico and the Caribbean for a summer, was Head Coach of The King's College Women's Volleyball Team for one year and was Coach of The King's College Men's Club Volleyball Team which I co-founded my freshman year at Kings. I thoroughly enjoyed my coaching experience and put it on hold to begin my business career. I attended Baylor University on a graduate assistant scholarship and received my MBA in 1980. I moved to Dallas to begin my career in Banking and began playing competitive volleyball indoor and outdoor on grass. I have found great enjoyment playing and coaching volleyball at all levels and began working with young ladies when my daughter asked to play Volleyball when she was 9. It is a sport that I have loved, participated in, and enjoyed since high school. In working with the different volleyball teams, I hope to instill this life-long love of the sport to those I coach.
